$22,380 In Stock Now Sold

Merchants And Manufacturers Met
With Other Sedalians
Monday Night

The sale of Sedco shoe factory stock had reached the sum of $22,380 late this afternoon, with civic leaders making an effort to add enough to that figure to reach the $25,000 goal.

The Gerster barber shop was listed on the 100 per cent list of purchasers today, and other one hundred per cent business houses may be secured before the close of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gerken, of Cole Camp, called at the office of the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon, said that whatever is good for Sedalia is good for this community too and purchased $100 worth of stock.

A group of merchants and manufacturers met in an open meeting in the court house Monday night to answer any questions relative to the proposition, and to plan ways and means of selling the necessary amount of stock to establish the shoe factory here.

Mr. Lamm Speaks

"If Sedalia gets the factory, the diversity of it and other possible manufacturing plants here will be the thing that will guide Sedalia to rapid and sound expansion." Don S. Lamm, lawyer, told the group. Lamm cited several Missouri towns, including Moberly, Webb City, Columbia, Joplin, which have expanded after obtaining factories. Cape Girardeau, a town of about 20,000 population, at present has about six or seven good sized factories in operation in addition to a college, the well-known Sedalia attorney explained. "Springfield got a factory when it was about the same population as Sedalia is," Lamm said, "and since then it has greatly expanded adding many more factories and two colleges."

Jefferson Cites Buys

A factory that was once completely bankrupt in a nearby Missouri city has since resumed operation and expanded to several hundred workers. A former Sedalian now residing in Jefferson City yesterday subscribed to $100 of stock here, proving that "when out of towners have that much faith in a factory, it certainly should prove to Sedalians that their city is worth a sound investment," an official stated.

Emphasizing the fact that the shoes to be manufactured by the Sedalia branch will be sold in equal quantities in times of depression or prosperity, Lamm explained that the shoe is one that will not change style frequently, and it is a type that is continually held in stock by all salesmen.

Charles Van Dyne, head of the American Disinfecting company, an internationally known organization, and president of the Chamber of Commerce, added that the sale of the shoes will probably

Injured Youth About The Same

The condition of Ernell Elton Manis, 22, RFD, Warrensburg, injured in a head-on collision in which Elvis D. Jay, 19, was killed, remains critical at the Bothwell hospital.

Manis is still unconscious and only a slight change has been noticed in his condition since Monday night.

The accident occurred about 5 o'clock Sunday morning, one mile west of Dresden, on Highway 50.

Virgil Murphy, a companion of Manis was dismissed from the hospital Sunday night. He suffered bruises and slight lacerations. Dean Boll, 111 West Sixth street, companion of Jay in his car received bruises but did not need medical treatment.

Large Attendance
At Inter-City Rotary
Meeting Monday

Group two, of the 134th district of Rotary, consisting of Clinton, Osceola, Warrensburg and Sedalia, held its inter-city meeting on Monday evening in Shelter House No. 1 at the Montserrat federal park. The Warrensburg club furnished the food, served cafeteria style, and the Sedalia club the program.

Community singing was led by Ralph Guenther, of the Smith-Cotton high school faculty. Six new members of Rotary were inducted into the organization by Guy Peabody and L. L. Studer. Two musical numbers were given by Mr. and Mrs. Guenther on the flute and piano, and the address of the evening was by Herold C. Hunt, superintendent of the Kansas City schools.

Reviewed History of Rotary

Mr. Hunt reviewed the history of Rotary, from its founding by Paul Harris, February 23, 1905, to the present day when there are more than 5,000 clubs with 210,000 members. He mentioned the fourfold obligations of Rotarians: First, club; second, craft; third, community; fourth, civilization. He asked those present to return to their own communities and exemplify some of the ideas of Rotary. "Service above self," "He profits most who serves best," "Rotarians are builders not wreckers."

A Large Attendance

There were seventy-six Rotarians and Rotaryans present from Sedalia, thirty-six from Warrensburg, thirty from Clinton and seven from Osceola. Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Heber U. Hunt, guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wright, R. W. Cook, guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ehrler, Miss Mary Anne Turner, guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Lockett, Clyde Guenther, of Knob Noster, guest of his brother, Ralph Guenther and Mrs. Guenther.

The meeting was called to order and presided over by Guy Peabody, chairman of the intercity committee.

Tragedy Follows St. Clair Family

ST. CLAIR, Mo., Oct. 14.—(P)—A kerosene-ignited fire killed the parents of a 2-year-old girl last night and burned the child and a family friend who rescued her.

Clifford Kinney, 47, and his wife, Florence, 34, were dead. Their daughter, Naomi, and John Vaughn, 71, of Meville, were burned and were taken to hospitals.

Coroner Ernest Ottman said Mrs. Kinney threw kerosene on a wood fire as the men and the child sat in the kitchen awaiting the evening meal. Spurring flames spread rapidly. Mrs. Kinney died a few hours later at a St. James hospital. Her husband's body was found at the bottom of a cistern near the kitchen door. How it got there was unexplained.

At the time of the accident, Kinney was writing notes of appreciation to friends who had sent flowers to the funeral yesterday of his stepson, Eldon Phillips, 12, who was fatally injured by an automobile September 24.

Retail Credit Association To Meet

Student Tells Story Of Ship Sinking

Was Passenger On Portuguese Ship
Sunk By Nazis

(Charles Buffinger, 26, a student of Beverly Hills, Calif., was the only American passenger on the 2,014-ton Portuguese steamer Corte Real, which was sunk by a German submarine Sunday. With a Frenchman, and the crew of 36, he arrived in Lisbon Monday night by trawler after an all night fight against the sea in a leaky lifeboat. He tells the story of the adventure in the following article.)

By CHARLES BUFFINGER
Written For The Associated Press
LISBON, Oct. 14.—We left Oporto (Portugal) about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon with five other passengers, myself and the crew.

About 10 o'clock Sunday morning a four-motored bomber marked with a swastika swept so close to the ship we thought it would hit the mast and we feared it was going to dive bomb us. We could see bombs in the rack and, believe me, when they are above you they give you the jitters.

About 11:30 we saw a plane over us, signaling with flashes, apparently from a sun reflector, but observed nothing at sea. I went inside the cabin and was watching the steward lay places for lunch when we heard two shots. I rushed on deck and saw a submarine lying on the surface about three city blocks from us.

Joked At First
We joked about the excitement and sat around deckchairs for what we thought was only a good show as the second officer and several members of the crew lowered a lifeboat and rowed over to the sub.

They were there about half an hour, talking with the Germans on the conning tower while the sub cruised slowly around us. Then the officer came back and conferred with the captain, who also went over to the submarine.

Later the captain told us he had offered to discharge his cargo or return to Oporto or go to Lisbon but the Germans were adamant.

He returned in a few minutes and told us bluntly to get into the lifeboats. He said the ship would be sunk immediately.

All of us were agast but immediately rushed to our cabins for our most valuable papers and some luggage.

When I came again on deck I found six or seven German sailors aboard, with submachineguns, hurrying us into lifeboats.

As the three lifeboats rowed away from the ship one of them settled so much that the women and children were taken onto the submarine and the survivors were distributed in our remaining two boats along side the sub.

German sailors brought us cotton to stuff our ears and the submarine's gun crew fired nine shots. Part of the boat was set afire but remained afloat. The

Strikes Cause Delay Of Food

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—(P)—Midwest army camps didn't receive accustomed food shipments from this city's three largest cold storage plants today.

Perishable foods—50,000,000 pounds of it—was tied up by a strike of 115 freight handlers. Included were poultry, eggs, meat, fruits and vegetables.

H. A. Steinmeyer, a plant manager, said the warehouses normally shipped several carloads of food each day to army training camps, while much of the frozen meat and eggs went to England.

The handlers, who receive 61 to 70 cents an hour, are reported seeking a flat 14-cents-an-hour wage boost.

Installing New Gas Pumps

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 14.—(P)—The city council is going to be sure that every gallon of gasoline has four full quarts.

Investigators tested pumps at 120 filling stations and found 108 measuring short—some as much as three quarts on a five-gallon purchase.

Now the pumps are to be sealed and inspected quarterly. If anyone—other than the inspector—breaks the seal the fine may run as high as $500.

Gerlach Pfeiffer Critically Ill

Gerlach Pfeiffer 83 year old retired city employee, suffered a stroke at his home Sunday night, and has been in a critical condition since.

Two sons, Emil and Henry Pfeiffer of Kansas City, a daughter, Mrs. James Fagan, Peoria, Ill., and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joe Pfeiffer and son, Joe, of Kansas City, have all arrived to be at his bedside.

Independent Grocers Buy Bonds And Stock

The Sedalia Independent Retail Grocers' Association, meeting Monday night, elected Landon Welch, Isador Kanter and Harvey Werling delegates to the state convention of grocers, to be held in St. Louis, October 19, 20 and 21. A delegation of fifteen grocers of this city, will board the Grocers' Special, on the Missouri Pacific lines, at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning, October 19, and go to St. Louis to attend the convention.

The association Monday night voted to purchase $300 worth of Defense Bonds and $80 worth of Sedco shoe factory stock.

New Deadlock In Strike Negotiations

Production Of Army Tanks Is Seriously Hampered

By The Associated Press
A deadlock developed today in negotiations to settle an inter-union dispute which has seriously hampered production of army tanks and other combat vehicles.

Government officials and automobile makers expressed increasing concern over a Cleveland strike which threatened to make 100,000 workers idle by midweek, and labor troubles continued to impede operations at two gulf coast shipyards.

The trouble over tanks involved two factories in different states, and a dispute between rival unions—the United Automobile Workers-CIO and the United Automobile Workers-AFL.

The UAW-CIO workers at the Spicer Manufacturing company, Toledo, O., where transmissions are made for 70 percent of the army tanks, refused to handle parts made by UAW-AFL members at the Hillsdale (Mich.) Steel Products company, a subsidiary of the Spicer firm.

The Toledo factory also produces transmissions for most of the army's half-tractor and "Jeep" combat vehicles.

A settlement conference at Hillsdale broke up early today

Higginsville Youth Shot

FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo., Oct. 14.—(P)—Corp. Frederick A. Haeder, 26, of Higginsville, was unconscious and in a critical condition with a gunshot wound in the head at post hospital today.

He was found yesterday in his quarters, sitting in bed slumped back against the wall. A bullet from a .45 caliber automatic, only shell in the gun, had pierced his right temple and left forehead.

Post surgeons performed an emergency operation last night.

Haeder entered the army as a selectee last February and reenlisted in the regular army in April for a 3-year period. He was named corporal July 12 and had been acting supply sergeant for Company G, First Infantry, Sixth Division, for the past month.

Post officials said his record was "exemplary" and expressed opinion the shooting may have been an accident.

Large Contract To

The J. A. Lamy Manufacturing company has been awarded a contract for $15,000 worth of jackets, by the War Department.

Cullen Cain Is Met At Depot Here By Boyhood Friends

Cullen Cain, a noted writer now living in Coral Gables, Fla., who formerly lived in Sedalia and Warsaw, was thrilled when he stepped off the train in Sedalia Monday to be met by two old friends. His own account of the meeting follows:

"Every man has a dream at one time or another about coming back to the old home town and being met at the station by the mayor and certain leading citizens and a brass band.

"Happy dream, even if it hardly ever comes true.

"But a delegation met me at the Sedalia station Monday that beat mayor, band and citizen outfit all hollow. Yep. No public demonstration could have warmed my heart like the greeting I had at the old Missouri Pacific station yesterday noon.

Here To Address Club

"I had come here to talk to the Sorosis club ladies and there was something in the paper about it the day before. Dan Banks, the colored porter at the Third street barber shop, read it. Dan knew me in boyhood days in Warsaw. So he hunted up Miles Carpenter, another colored man who was also a Warsaw product,

States Ships Sunk Were Given Warning

John Cudahy
Asks Permission
To Testify

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(P)—John E. Finerty, New York attorney appearing as the first witness against proposals to permit the arming of merchant ships, denounced the idea today as "a means of involving us in this war."

Finerty, who said he once represented Eamon de Valera, now head of the government of Eire, told the house foreign affairs committee that the three American ships sunk so far—the Robin Moore, the Steel Seafarer and the Sessa—were carrying contraband. He asserted they were not sunk without warning.

"If from now on we make it possible for the Germans to say that any merchant vessel is armed, we condemn our own seamen to total destruction," Finerty said.

Cudahy Wants To Testify

When the committee reopened its doors after an executive session, Rep. Mundt (R-SD) announced he had received a telegram from John Cudahy, former ambassador to Belgium, stating he had asked Chairman Bloom (D-NY) for an opportunity to testify. A similar message came from John T. Flynn, New York economist, Mundt said. Flynn's wire also protested against "the whole design to stifle discussion on and to railroad through this bill which is designed not to protect American ships but to get us into this war."

President Felix Morley of Rarverford college wired Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) of the committee that he was declining an invitation to testify because he believed the "administration has gone too far to make presentations of my viewpoint of a practical value in these improperly abbreviated hearings."

Morley's Message

Morley's message said the act was "unquestionably preserving our peace effectively."

Before any witnesses were called, Chairman Bloom (D-NY) vigorously gavelled down attempts of Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) to place certain material in the committee record.

Vorys sought permission to record a letter which he and three other Republican members had addressed to Bloom, protesting against the limitations of the hearing to two days, together with

Germans Punish Opposing Forces

PARIS, Occupied France, Oct. 14.—(P)—The 77th French victim of German firing squads was executed this morning as German authorities pressed their fight against Communistic and other opposition to their occupying forces.

Three more Communists received sentences ranging up to 20 years at hard labor before a Paris special court yesterday. A special court at Rennes in Brittany passed sentences on a railroad worker and an escaped Communist.

Louis Bonvin, governor of the French concessions in India, who went over to the Free French side, Pierre Comert, important former foreign office official, and 55 other French emigres were deprived of their nationality by a decree issued at Vichy today. Most of those on the list are high diplomatic, colonial and naval officials.

Screen Of Secrecy On Russian Aid

LONDON, Oct. 14.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill raised a screen of secrecy around the question of aid to Russia today, refusing to permit the House of Commons to debate the subject of British help and declining to discuss the course of the battle before Moscow.

In a brief parliamentary exchange Laborite Emanuel Shinwell, advocate of a British diversion in the west, had asked for a debate on aid to Russia. The prime minister brusquely brushed aside questioners, however. "Mr. Shinwell should not suppose," declared Churchill, "that he has a monopoly of anxiety in these matters. I do not see any reason at all for an early debate at the present time on the situation in the east."

"I think it might be detrimental. I am sure it would likely do more harm than good."

Shinwell declared that there is considerable disquiet in the country about the whole substance and speed of the assistance rendered Russia.

Churchill said that any statement on the German offensive "must obviously be left to the Russian high command who are conducting their great battle."

"I should not presume," he said, "to add anything to their communications at this juncture."

Laborite Aneurin Bevan cut in here with a charge that Lord Halifax, ambassador to Washington, had by "irresponsible utterances" in the United States given "gratuitous assurances to the enemy that they will not be attacked anywhere."

Bevan said that Halifax was "a man with a bad record this way."

Churchill asserted that Bevan's words were "abuse of a man who is on a high mission outside this country," and he stuck to his refusal of a debate even in a secret session.

New Age Coming Of Steel Alloys

By Howard W. Blakeslee
MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—(P)—America's war metal problem has reached an unexpected solution, the national academy of sciences was told today, one that may change some of the habits of the American people.

The solution is mainly that steel will become a part many things which have been made with other metals. There will be, as a result, a long range effect on many products and processes of manufacture that ultimately will affect habits.

This report was made by Dr. Zay Jeffries, Cleveland chairman of the metals conservation and substitution group of the advisory committee on metals and minerals.

Wherever one metal was substituted for another, Dr. Jeffries said, a shortage resulted somewhere in the metal circle.

Steel then came to the rescue. Metallurgists found steel could do at least part of the jobs done by all the other alloying metals.

The result is the beginning of an undreamed of age of steel alloys, many of them new. Although steel, too, now is short, Dr. Jeffries said enough could be produced in time to make up for all metal deficiencies.

Bomb Loading Plant For Nebraska

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(P)—The War Department announced today a bomb loading plant to be known as the Nebraska ordnance plant would be built in the vicinity of Wahoo, Neb.

The announcement did not disclose the cost of the plant. Aides of Rep. Norris (Ind.-Neb.) had said it would cost approximately $25,000,000.

The War Department said the exact site of the plant had not been selected. It will be a complete unit for assembling and loading bombs. In full operation it will employ a total of approximately 3,000 persons.

Kansas City Police Receive Pay Increase

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 14.—(P)—The police department was losing too many men to defense industries which offered more lucrative salaries so the council voted $15,000 in wage increases.

But they're still losing them, the police board complained yesterday, and asked $20,000 for more raises.

Patrolmen's pay, the lowest in the police scale, now ranges from $110 to $150 per month.

Germans Draw Near To Moscow

Reds Admit Fall Of Strategic
Vyazma, 125 Miles
West Of Capital

By The Associated Press

German and Soviet armies were reported locked in a great new battle today near historic Borodino, where Napoleon crushed the Russians before his entry into Moscow in 1812, and Nazi long range siege guns were said to be already shelling the capital's "outermost defense belt."

As Nazi cannon rumbled a few score miles to the west, S. A. Lozovsky, official Soviet spokesman, issued this statement of defiance late today:

"Fresh millions have risen for the defense of Moscow. We know the Germans will never capture Moscow."

Slashing New Gains

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies were credited with slashing new gains of 110 and 60 in two vital sectors of the 13-day-old battle for Moscow today, with Nazi vanguards reported battling only 65 miles west of the Soviet capital and long-range German siege guns in a position to shell Moscow's "outermost defense belt."

There was little gloom in Moscow itself, however.

While conceding German superiority in numbers and weight of machines, the Russians declared their resistance was growing and that Red army counter-attacks were increasing in frequency.

Thousands of Moscow civilians were reported toiling feverishly to erect chains of field fortifications around the beleaguered capital, and masses of fresh Soviet troops were hurrying to combat the Nazi juggernaut under an oath to "die here but not let the enemy into Moscow."

Many Casualties

The German government announced that more than 3,000,000 Russian prisoners had been captured in the 16-week-old campaign, and that the equivalent of 300 Soviet divisions at full war strength had been captured, killed or wounded.

According to this estimate, which assumed that each division numbered 20,000 men, the Germans declared a total of 6,000,000 Russian soldiers had been put out of action.

Germans Ejected

London advices said advance German troops had reached Mzhaisk, about midway between Moscow and fallen Vyazma, but had been ejected by fiercely counter-attacking Red army forces.

The thrust apparently marked the closest approach to Moscow since the German offensive began October 2.

The German thrust to Mzhaisk apparently marked the closest approach to Moscow in the 13-day-old offensive.

A Berlin spokesman indicated also that Nazi columns had encircled Kaluga, 100 miles south of Moscow, and rolled on, leaving Soviet forces there to be mopped up by German rear-guards. If true, this would mean the Germans already had advanced more than half the distance from Bryansk, scene of much of the heaviest fighting, to the U.S.S.R. capital.

Another Column Advancing

The Germans asserted that still another Nazi column moving

WASHINGTON—Don't be surprised if a U.S. warship disembarks a load of Nazi sailors and turns them over to the Justice Department to be tried on charges of "piracy."

It is even possible that in the "haul" may be an armed Nazi raider or two that had been operating down Brazil way.

Anything may happen these eventful days since the president enunciated U.S. determination to maintain freedom of the seas, and branded Nazi submarines and surface raiders in American waters as "pirates." Armed Nazi ships ARE prowling American waters and the U.S. Navy has its orders.

It can be revealed that neither the Justice nor War Department would be surprised if they had some "pirate" seamen and "pirate" craft to deal with soon. Both have been quietly studying for a week the law and precedents concerning such an eventuality.

The War Department enters the picture because under the law all war prisoners landed on U. S. soil come under the custody of the army. However, the U. S. is not at war, so there is doubt over the army's jurisdiction.

No final decision has been reached, but the consensus of the legal experts is that any such "pirates" should be turned over to the Justice Department.

One suggested procedure is that the Nazis be landed at a U.S. port and then jailed as aliens without passports. But most of the legal authorities contend that the Nazis should be dealt with squarely as buccaneers.

A highly significant feature of these under-cover deliberations is that the Justice and War Department were directed to make their legal studies quickly.

NOTE: Last week an important War Department official suggested to a navy official that the navy give the army advance notice of any captives that might have to be taken over. The instant reply was, "Hell, we already have some." But when pressed for details, the navy man shut up.

Dual CCC Visit
On his return trip to Washington the Duke of Windsor plans to visit a nearby CCC camp with the idea of establishing a similar one in the Bahamas. The camp selected for his visit will probably be one of the Negro units, as the Bahamas population is largely Negro.

J. J. McEntee, CCC director, was much impressed with the Duke's keen interest when they discussed the CCC in Washington last month. The Duke said he regarded the CCC as an ideal means of accomplishing two social purposes—to get public work done and to give employment to boys.

One thing Windsor was particularly interested in was the origin of the CCC and he asked who originated it. The answer was, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Nazi Spuds
Although intelligence experts have stopped making guesses on when Germany would run short of raw materials they have just pieced together some illuminating information concerning the German potato supply.

Several weeks ago Berlin cables reported an unofficial forecast on this year's crop at 65,000,000 metric tons. This is about 5,000,000 tons below the record 1940 crop of 70,000,000 tons. That is not so bad, except that these figures, plus others now in the hands of authorities on German potato consumption reveals a situation not disclosed in cable dispatches.

For example: The effectiveness of the British blockade in shutting off food imports to Germany has forced the population to depend more and more on potatoes. So much so that potato consumption has risen 75 percent in the past year.

Further, the consumption increase has taken place in cities distant from potato-growing areas. That means they have to be hauled from over German railroads and trucklines, already heavily burdened with troop and munitions traffic. Intelligence experts therefore anticipate that the Nazis soon may be faced with the question of whether to haul potatoes to the cities or munitions to the eastern front.

Franked Stone
Many a dull speech and many a heavy tome have been sent out from Washington postage free, under the congressional frank, but the all-time record for weight was broken by isolationist Senator Gerald W. Nye when, under his congressional frank, he mailed a stone.

The present Mrs. Nye comes from Iowa Falls, Ia., and a zealous lady of a Methodist church there has been put in charge of making a collection of stones—one from each state and colonial possession of the United States—for the construction of a fireplace in the church.

So she wrote to Senator Nye and asked if he would contribute a stone from his state of North Dakota. In due time it came—a nice big boulder, postage free, under Nye's senatorial frank.

Merry-Go-Round
In a direct membership election, the American Newspaper Guild has overwhelmingly defeated the leftist clique which for several years has controlled the national offices of the union. The entire group was cleaned out and a militant anti-Red slate elected. The isolationists aren't the only ones fighting the lifting of the ban on arming U. S. merchant ships. Three big steamship companies, United Fruit, Grace Lines and Moore-McCormack, behind the scenes also are opposing this move. They are passing around the word that they are against arming their vessels except in the event of war. The companies claim mounting guns on their ships will be bad for their profitable tourist business. . . . Flash! "Doc" Townsend, mogul of the old-age pension movement, has revised his $200 a month scheme. In the "Townsend Weekly" he announces that under the "scientifically-balanced" Townsend plan "the pension would begin at around $50 a month and increase as national recovery was brought about." . . . Thumbnail description of Wisconsin's ex-Governor Phil LaFollette, by an old political associate: "Like the cute little drum majorette of our high school band, Phil doesn't give a damn where the procession leads, just so he is leading it."

Cordell Hull has a new car, a long sleek limousine, but without either radio or heater. Quoted at $2,615 for the retail trade, the car cost the government only $1,800. Also gas costs only 8 cents a gallon. . . . Henry Wallace still attends the Spanish luncheon club he started at the Department of Agriculture. Every Friday he sits down with his old colleagues to break bread and polish up his Spanish. . . . In constructing the mammoth new War Department building on the Virginia side of the Potomac, builders are driving so many piles—42,000 in clusters of seven—that engineers fear "boiling" of the land. The piles dislocate so much earth that it's likely to erupt in other spots and disturb the construction.

Four Thousand Gazers

This is the season of the year when most of the country is enjoying the beauty of autumn woods, the time when the huntsmen stumble over each other and occasionally shoot one another in lieu of deer or rabbits.

It is also the time when any one of these autumn excursionists by a carelessly-tossed match or cigarette can cause millions of dollars worth of damage. Many sections of the country have had unusual dry spells; in such a dry spell last spring, 1,302,430 acres of forest were burned over through carelessness.

Enjoy nature, but don't get so familiar as to try to give her a hot-foot.

Guard Against Fires!

There must have been a lot of gazing done when 4,000 professional crystal-ball gazers met in a fortune-teller's convention in Tokio. If the whole lot of them, gazing steadfastly and in concert, were able to see anything good for Japan in the policies that shattered the peace of the world by the invasion of Manchuria in 1941, they saw something that isn't visible to the naked eye.

What Japan needs right now is not people gazing into a crystal ball, but somebody capable of seeing directly through a large and very opaque eight-ball.

• So They Say

This is the life. What a lovely way to earn a living!—Regis Toomey, movie actor, after breaking the long-distance kissing record.

Labor leaders should appreciate that what the government giveth the government can take away.—Don Tracy, Department of Labor, former A. F. of L. executive.

We propose that opportunities for profit, and for greater or less profit, will remain the incentive for efficiency, foresight, and initiative, even during this great effort to achieve supremacy in production.—Leon Henderson, federal price administrator.

The Missouri-Stratton Mining company, with mines in Lake Creek township, Pettis county and Costella county, has been granted a charter, and W. H. H. Myers, Pacific express messenger of Sedalia, has been appointed superintendent of development of the local property. Capital stock is $300,000.

W. S. Allen, manager of the Elite Bowling hall, will retire from that position this week and will be succeeded by Will C. Hiatt, of Fort Scott, Kas., a son-in-law of Judge John R. Clopton, of Sedalia.

The annual convention of the Ladies' Missionary Union of Lafayette Presbytery will convene at the Presbyterian church at Hughesville this evening. The opening sermon will be given by Rev. Mr. Eddy, of Boonville.

A pardon for Emmett Dalton, one of the notorious brothers who robbed numerous trains at Coffeyville, Kas., will probably be refused, Judge J. D. McCue of Kansas City stated today. The pardon was requested of Judge McCue by the mother of the Dalton boys, who asked him to write a recommendation to Governor Stanley. Dalton is under sentence of life imprisonment for second degree murder.

Society And Clubs

Women who have been immortalized by historians and in classic literature were described by Cullen Cain, widely known newspaper man and lecturer, in a talk entitled "Women of Fact and Fancy," at the Sorosis meeting Monday afternoon at the Heard Memorial clubhouse. When of recent eras as well as those famous in the present day also were briefly analyzed by the speaker, who is a former Sedalian. The women whose lives have been recorded in history and literature are a "long and gorgeous array," persons of glamour, as seen through young eyes, Mr. Cain said. Many have been noted more for misdeeds than for virtuous attributes, he pointed out. Among the famous women he mentioned were Helen of Troy, "who deserted her country, but was glorified by Homer," Cleopatra, socreress of the Nile, who won the hearts of Caesar and Mark Anthony, in the sternness of her rule proved that mind wins over beauty; Elizabeth the bad-tempered queen of England, who did more for her empire than any king had.

From a list of about fifteen celebrated women, the speaker chose Joan of Arc as the greatest of all, a woman without blemish. He commented that Mark Twain planned a satire of her but in reading material about her life could find nothing to scoff at.

Several movie and stage stars whom Mr. Cain has known and interviewed were discussed by him, as "women of fact," including Jeanette MacDonald, May Robeson, Fannie Brice, and Mrs. Sydney Drew, formerly of Sedalia.

The wife of a railroad man, who had lived at railroad camps and whose husband eventually accumulated a fortune was exemplified as one who exhibited poise and a sense of proportion, when she gracefully served as hostess to the President of the United States.

Observing what catches a man's fancy, he told that it was the girl with the "listening look" who was the lady of his choice, his wife.

Mr. Cain, through his lecture, described many types of women, both of "fact and fancy," and in closing emphasized the vital part that women play in the world.

He was presented to the audience by Mrs. A. L. Walter, chairman of the Civics department department. Mrs. Austin Hurley announced that the speaker next Monday would be Miss Harriet P. Guild, of Sedalia, who will speak on "Know Your Own Community Better."

Two members of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's club, Mrs. Grace Young and Miss Hazel Palmer, added very materially to the program at the district meeting of the BPWC in Fayette Sunday, which was preceded by a luncheon at the Parish House of the First Methodist church.

Miss Grace B. Shephard, president of the Fayette club, presided. The invocation was given by the Rev. C. B. Galatas, pastor of the Fayette Methodist church. Mrs. Harry F. Hedburg led the group singing, with Miss Marie Grigsby as accompanist.

In the roll call of clubs present Boonville was first and Sedalia a close second, with eighteen members present.

The next district meeting will be in Jefferson City. Miss Hauschild Spoke

Miss Christina Hauschild, state president of the federation, spoke on "Wanted: Twentieth Century Paul Revere's." She urged each member to take an interest in the problems of the world, emphasizing the need for each individual to do his or her part, both as individuals and as members of a group. She concluded by saying the hands of the clock are hurrying and each of us should do our best to defend democracy.

A "job clinic" was a feature of the program, and it was serious and amusing too. Participating in it were Mrs. Grace Young and Miss Palmer, of Sedalia, and Laura Quisenberry, Columbia; Hazel Stewart, Columbia; Flora Crutcheff, Boonville; Bess Hubbard, Versailles; Mabel Woods, Fayette; Viola Ayres, Fayette; Tathela Geisler, Columbia; Marje Moore Sweeney, Marshall.

Reviewed Kansas City Meeting Mrs. Bess Swafford, of Kansas City, reviewed facts from the "Defense Rally" given by I. M. Evans of Great Britain and Portugal last Thursday in Kansas City. Miss Mary Johnson, of Sedalia Farm Security office also attended this meeting in Kansas City and gave some interesting facts of the foods and rations in England comparing them with the United States.

A number of relatives and friends met Sunday at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Decker, in observance of the fortieth wedding anniversary of the Deckers. A bountiful dinner was served at the noon hour to the following: Mr. and Mrs. James Allison, Waverly; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duncan, William Duncan, Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Schilb and children, Billy, David and Jewell, of Ottumwa, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Decker and children, Ruth Ann and June, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Decker and children, Leo Ray, Dorothy Jean, Donald and Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gehlken, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Maness, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Schilb, Mrs. J. H. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Decker, all of Sedalia.

Mrs. Loy Smith of Green Ridge, was hostess on Saturday afternoon at a kitchen party at her country home. Each guest upon arriving was asked to write her favorite recipe and the kitchen gadgets needed to prepare the food. The hostess then presented each guest with a recipe tied with red and white ribbon in which was concealed the announcement of the wedding of her sister, Miss Mable Wadleigh to Mr. Lee Templeton which will take place on October 26.

The afternoon was spent in embroidery tea towels for the bride-to-be.

down from Moscow from the Valdiva hills to the northwest was near the Moscow-Leningrad railway.

No amplification was forthcoming on the report that German siege guns now were in a position to shell Moscow's outer perimeter of defenses. Normally, field guns have a range under 25 miles, but German "Big Berthas" during the World War bombarded Paris from a distance of more than 75 miles.

The Russians, reporting a vast slaughter of the invaders, admitted the fall of strategic Vyazma, 125 miles west of Moscow, but declared the German offensive was slackening before growing Red army resistance in that sector.

Soviet front-line dispatches pictured a series of gigantic mechanized battles raging over the fields west of Moscow, with the Germans hurling tanks and motorized infantry from one sector to another in an effort to find soft spots.

Germans Back Ten Miles

Red Star, the Russian army newspaper, said the Germans had been thrown back 10 miles in one sector, and other Soviet reports told of the death of 10,000 Nazis in three attacks.

Dispatches to Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, indicated Russian warplanes now were gaining superiority above the vast and chaotic battlefield after the Germans for a time seemed to be getting control of the skies. In the past few days "the situation has changed," the report said.

Massed German air attacks so far have failed to disrupt the railway network feeding reserves and supplies to the front, Izvestia said, adding:

"Our transport is functioning without a hitch."

Battle More Furious

Military advices reaching London said the battle was intensifying in fury, and gave this sector-by-sector summary:

1—Orel (210 miles south of Moscow): "The Germans are attacking in great strength, but the Russians appear to be holding them at present."

2—Bryansk (210 miles southwest of Moscow): "The situation is obscure, although reports from Moscow indicate the Russians have the situation in hand."

3—On the Rostov-Moscow axis: "The Germans appear to have advanced on a narrow front and in great strength. Their advanced units reached Mzhaisk but were ejected by the Russians and heavy fighting is continuing."

4—From the Valdiva Hills: "The German drive toward Rzhnev (140 miles northwest of Moscow) appears to be making some progress."

Forces Nearly Annihilated

German front-line reports said Red forces trapped in the Vyazma sector were "nearly annihilated," that more than 350,000 prisoners had been taken in the Vyazma-Bryansk battles, and that Russians fleeing the Bryansk region had taken to forests and fields to dodge the attacks of Nazi dive-bombers.

Britain maintained aerial pressure upon Germany, raiding western objectives of the Reich overnight for the fourth consecutive night in an around-the-clock offensive intended to destroy factories and supply lines which bolster the Nazi drive against Russia.

German spokesmen acknowledged a small number of civilian casualties and said two night raiders were downed.

Bombs On Britain

A few bombs were dropped upon Britain, a London communiqué said, but caused only slight damage.

Neutral Portugal lost a merchant ship in the warfare at sea.

Sinking of the 2,044-ton Portuguese steamer Corte Real by a German submarine was disclosed at Lisbon last night after her six passengers and crew of 36 were landed by a trawler. The undersea raider had towed their lifeboats close to the coast to facilitate rescue.

Among the passengers was an American physician, Dr. Charles Cant Buffinger, 26.

The London admiralty said British submarines had sunk two merchant ships and forced a third aground in action against axis supply lines throughout the Mediterranean.

Torpedoed by Italians

A British battleship and a 10,000-ton cruiser were torpedoed by Italian airmen who surprised them in the eastern Mediterranean yesterday, the Italian high command said today. The cruiser was declared to have listed heavily.

Violent fire from guns of the two ships and others in a formation of two battleships and several cruisers and destroyers badly damaged one of the raiding planes, a communiqué said, but all "returned to their bases."

In other actions over the Mediterranean and North Africa, the communiqué reported, eleven British planes were destroyed by Germans and Italians.

"Not a single Italian machine was lost," it said.

telegrams received by the chairman from opposition witnesses.

Upon the motion of Rep. Luther A. Johnson (D-Tex.) Bloom ruled the request should be considered in executive session, to which Vorys replied that he wanted to be heard publicly.

Stump Speech

"The chairman has made a stump speech here," the Ohioan said, "and I don't want a star chamber session."

He referred to a statement Bloom had made at the opening criticizing unidentified minority members for saying they had submitted lists of witnesses they desired to be heard.

Johnson arose and told Vorys that "we're going to do things in a decent way here if I have anything to say about it."

After Bloom had gavelled the committee into silence, the committee voted 10 to 6, with one voting "present," to go into executive session. At that point, Rep. Mundt (R-SD) got up and tried to make a statement.

"You sit down, Mr. Mundt," yelled Bloom, pounding his gavel again.

Bloom then ordered the room cleared and announced that the open session would be resumed as soon as the question of the record was settled.

submarine finally sank it with a torpedo which caused a tremendous explosion.

Blamed Cargo

Germans told the captain the ship was sunk because some of the cargo, which was mixed Portuguese and Swiss, was marked: "Montreal via New York."

About one o'clock the submarine crew passed out five bottles of cognac—we got three in our boat. Then the submarine took the two boats in tow.

From the moment the lifeboats put to sea until they arrived in Lisbon everybody had to bail frantically. There was always water in the boats.

The submarine towed us about 20 miles. Then, about five in the afternoon, a submarine officer told us to cast off, promising that our whereabouts would be radioed to a rescue ship at Lisbon.

Rowed And Bailed

We cast off and began to row and bail—mostly bail. All the time the submarine had given us a supply of black, mouldy bread and some medicines.

Several times during the night we shot rockets, mistaking setting stars for ships' lights.

About an hour after sunrise we sighted a Portuguese sailing ship with an auxiliary motor. It towed us to the mouth of the Tagus, where a Portuguese navy plane sighted us and sent a coast-guard ship to tow us into Lisbon. We landed about nine o'clock at night.

Speaker Before The Grand Jury

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 14.—(P)—House Speaker Morris R. Osborn appeared before the Cole county grand jury today, the first witness in the body's investigation of legislative shake-down rumors.

The speaker, a Shelby county Democrat, appeared voluntarily before the jury.

When bribery rumors first began circulating in the closing days of the 61st General Assembly Osborn issued a statement in which he said Missouri Businessmen who contributed to legislative slush funds were being victimized by a racket.

Osborn said it was his opinion that little, if any, of the money paid into slush funds ever reached legislators. Most of it he declared, went to lobbyists and others who convinced business firms and organizations it was necessary to make up financial pools to influence legislation.

Ben Stevens of Russellville was excused from the jury today because of ill health. He sat in on most of last week's initial meetings. Stevens was replaced by W. B. Thompson, a Russellville jeweler.

Osborn had not been subpoenaed before the grand jury. His appearance today surprised court attaches. Cole County Prosecutor Carl F. Wymore said earlier he did not expect the jury to get into its legislative inquiry until later in the week.

Rep. Forrest Mittendorf, St. Louis county republican, also appeared voluntarily to testify before the grand jury.

New Deadlock In Strike Negotiations

after 15 hours talk, with no apparent prospect of early agreement. Federal Mediator J. J. Spillane went back to Washington to report to the U. S. Conciliation Service.

The CIO union proposed that 11 of their members who were dismissed from the Hillsdale factory last August be reinstated. That the government appoint an impartial referee to pass upon their reinstatement, and that the referee be given jurisdiction in any future disputes.

A spokesman for the AFL group, which won a recent Labor Board election at Hillsdale, declared "We will not surrender any bargaining rights acquired under law." The CIO has a contract at Spicer, and contends that a "strike" exists at Hillsdale because of the discharge of some CIO workmen.

Unemployment Threat

The threat of unemployment hung over 100,000 automotive workers as a result of the two weeks old strike of CIO workers at the Midland Steel Products company, Cleveland, maker of automobile frames. Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., at Toledo, was left without frames needed for army "Jeeps," part of a $13,000,000 order, and Hudson and Buick officials said they would be forced to slow down passenger car production if the strike was not settled soon. Studebaker corporation already has closed its passenger car division, making 6,000 idle.

The CIO union is seeking job reclassifications for 342 of its members.

Urges Drastic Steps

The Ingalls Shipbuilding corporation at Pascagoula, Miss., urged the government and international unions to "take drastic steps" to avert work stoppage on $150,000,000 worth of ship construction as a result of a strike of AFL boilermakers. Operations there came to a halt as the union charged that the company was attempting to start an independent union. The company contended the strike was called without notice to the company, without grievance on the part of the employees and without sanction of the international unions.

About 600 AFL carpenters, protesting "working conditions," walked off the construction of a new plant at the Houston (Texas) Shipbuilding corporation, and some 350 AFL pipefitters stayed away from work in sympathy with the carpenters.

One Contract Signed

The United Mine Workers (CIO) announced the signing of a union shop contract with the Harlan County (Ky.) Coal Operators Association, affecting 22,000 workers in 22 mines and capping 20 years of struggle by the union.

At the convention of the American Federation of Labor in Seattle, AFL President William Green told labor delegates from Britain and Canada that the AFL membership was determined to "stand beside them to the bitter end."

The convention acted unanimously in approving the principles of the five day week and vacations with pay in future union contracts.

Plan Submitted Unsatisfactory

A railroad management "plan of emergency compensation" was submitted to President Roosevelt's fact finding board in Chicago and was immediately declared to be unsatisfactory by heads of two of the 19 unions which have authorized a strike to enforce wage demands. The board was created in an effort to avert the walkout of the carriers' 1,260,000 organized employees.

The management plan would increase by percent earnings up to $30 weekly or $65 on semi-monthly payrolls, effective November 1, and would amount to $95,000,000 a year. It also would embrace a formula relating changes in the living cost index to railroad gross revenues.

Calls Program Deceptive

George M. Harrison, president of the Railway Clerks union, said the proposed program was "deceptive in its operation and unsound as a means of adjusting wages." He contended that it "ignores all other relevant factors in wage fixing and perpetuates inequalities of treatment compared with other wage earners who now enjoy wage increases."

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, termed "a deliberate and unadulterated misstatement of fact" a contention of F. G. Gurney, management representative, that approximately one half of the increase in gross revenues would be required to cover increased operating expenses.

be better in times of depression "because women naturally buy a more inexpensive shoe during those times. The Tober-Saifer shoe company is the second largest wholesale shoe company in the United States. Van Dyne said, and has been established for 60 years. Leading Sedalia shoe merchants have purchased Tober-Saifer shoes for as long as 30 years, and the main object in the establishment of a branch factory in Sedalia is to assure a dependable source for the many distributing houses of the company, since a large number of factories are being converted into national defense production units.

Building Separate

The sale of the stock to Sedalians will have nothing to do with the construction of the building to house the factory. Van Dyne explained, since about 18 business men are backing the housing problem. The stock money, he said, will be used partially to offset the loss which every factory must face for a short time of operation. Production cannot reach a peak level until workmen become skilled at the trade, and stock funds will be used to operate the plant during the training period necessary to instruct new employees.

The factory will not be in danger of a shutdown because of priority," Attorney Lamm asserted, "since the materials which will be used in the manufacture of the shoes are not needed for defense, and the metal used in shoes is unobtainable."

"I will not personally guarantee the stock to pay dividends," Lamm stated, "but I believe that the fact that a man with Richard J. Parnell's (manager of the factory) splendid reputation wouldn't associate himself with the factory unless he is positive that it has every opportunity to be a success." The Sedalia attorney has purchased a large amount of stock, and is one of the record-breaking sellers.

As much as possible, Sedalians will be employed in the factory, but applications for jobs cannot be taken until the $25,000 stock sale is assured, Ellsworth Green, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, told the group. When applications can be taken, an announcement will be made through the newspaper," Green said.

Study Revising Of Arms Ban

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, Oct. 14.—(P)—Panama's ousted president Arnulfo Arias, arrived here from Cuba today aboard the Honduran steamer Cefalu with the avowed intention of returning to his homeland, where a bloodless coup last Thursday overthrew his regime.

His first act was to reject a demand for his formal resignation. Galilio Solis, who had been Arias' contact man in the old regime, brought a document of resignation for the ex-president to sign but he refused.

PANAMA CITY, Oct. 14.—(P)—The new government of Panama studied the question of revising the ban on the arming of merchant vessels of Panamanian registry Monday but announced no action.

A statement after a cabinet meeting said "the Panama government will continue giving attention to that delicate problem which will be solved at a nonpartisan time."

The overthrow of Dr. Arnulfo Arias as president, followed a decision of his cabinet last week to revoke Panamanian registry of any vessel armed by their owners.

Asked if this measure was still effective, a member of the government said "draw your own conclusions."

Various leaders, however, expressed disappointment at failure of the cabinet to take definite action, and said "beating around the bush this way is bad for the administration's prestige."

King Zog, Now In England, Wants His Kingdom Restored

By ROBERT BUNNELLE

LONDON, Oct. 14.—(Correspondence of the Special News Service)—Zog I, king without a country, is living the unexciting life of a country gentleman and hoping his followers, the British, or somebody, will chase the Italians out of Albania and give him back his job.

Silent about his plans, the suave, mustached ex-monarch avoids publicity, extorts modestly and attends strictly to his own business.

To outsiders, that seems principally to be bouncing his blond young son—born two days before the Italians invaded Albania—on his knee and reading the papers. But in these days King Zog is harder to interview than King George VI of England.

Met At Ritz

I finally met him at the Ritz for cocktails, a "purely social meeting" arranged through a mutual friend after weeks of effort to see him professionally as king and newsman. It was in one of those rather gloomily old high ceilinged drawing rooms in which the Ritz seems to specialize.

The king's minister of court, Sortir I. Martin escorted me to the room. The king entered with a brisk stride—and a secretary of state—and we four shook hands and began to talk, with the minister and secretary easing the rough spots when translations were necessary.

"I am happy," said King Zog in French, "that the South American republics have begun to realize the dangers of enemies from without. It is good to see them turning in the direction of joint action with the United States to defend the western hemisphere against aggression. If the Balkan countries had been unified, the story of this war might have been a different story."

Wants U. S. Support

Expressing pride in the fact that Queen Geraldine has an American grandmother and that there are "many Albanians in the United States," Zog said, "I hope for the support and friendship of your country."

"Some day," he added, "there may be a new League of Nations under which the small countries that have been destroyed will be restored. If there is, I hope the United States will take part in it and not remain aloof as after the last war. A League of Nations must have the United States to be successful."

King Zog was reticent about his wartime activities. But his associates made plain that he was not permitted to engineer a revolt in Albania to undermine Italian strong points after Italy and Greece went to war in October, 1940.

Don't Like Italian Rule

The king says his Albanian mountaineers never will be reconciled to Italian rule and many of his followers felt that with Zog's leadership, bands of fighters might have been organized to enable the Greeks to mop up the Italians before the Germans joined in the fighting last April.

At one time King Zog thought of joining the Greek forces, but the plans never materialized. There is a story in diplomatic circles that the Greeks rejected Zog's offers because they doubted whether they would be of real value and because they felt they could deal with the Italians without incurring obligations. Some said the Greeks wanted Albania and Durazzo for themselves.

Expected Help

King Zog, who wouldn't discuss this either, feels that France and Britain could have helped themselves by helping him when the Italians moved into Albania the Easter week-end of 1939.

Zog left the meeting with his cocktail virtually untouched—he is a Mohammedan. He was wearing a neat dark suit, and his mustache was tightly waxed. He looked fit but restless, as though his inactivity were boring him.

The Zogs—the King, Queen, Prince and Zog's three sisters and the queen's grandmother—live in a typical English country house at Epsom. They maintain town quarters at the Ritz, including ministers, aides and servants, the household numbers about 30.

Zog has no income from his country although he is in touch with Albania's consulates which still are maintained in Istanbul and Cairo. It is reported the family lives on gold and jewels brought with them when they fled here for the war. They went from Albania to Greece when the Italians moved in, and from Greece to Turkey and thence to France where they lived at Versailles in a Chateau once occupied by the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

When France began to totter, the Zog family took the last ship out of Bordeaux and arrived in England the latter part of June, 1940. At first, they did a bit of sightseeing but lately they have settled into comparative seclusion.

ing posts in the Greenland area.

Meteorologists have said that knowledge of weather conditions in Greenland would provide information of extreme importance to the operation of submarines and in the timing of Luftwaffe attacks against Great Britain, since Europe's weather moves from west to east across the Atlantic.

Could Supply Information

It was pointed out, further, that such a listening post might be in a position to supply information about the compositions of convoys and their movements.

The radio equipment set ashore by the vessel was said, in a terse navy communication, to have been "disposed of."

The Greenland radio station was described by the navy as having been "manned by an agent of the German gestapo and two other Norwegians," who had been put ashore before the navy intercepted the ship.

Japan Press Wants Harmony

TOKYO, Oct. 14.—(P)—The newspaper Chugai Shogyo, organ of moderate big business interests, pleaded today for new efforts to prevent a clash between the United States and Japan.

"The Japanese people should not even dream of a collision between their country and America," the paper said, adding:

"We believe there is no problem so serious that it must be settled by arms. But whether things come to such a point (resort to arms) depends entirely on the United States. Therefore we ask the reconsideration of the United States government."

(This apparently was a reference to what Japanese consider their attempts at conciliation, such as Premier Kono's letter to President Roosevelt.)

Chugai Shogyo said the United States need not be greatly affected if the European war is extended to the far east, but added that "Japan will face great pain." (This apparently was a plea for American non intervention in the event of a Russian-Japanese war.)

Factory Opinions

Elliott M. Stafford, Jr., secretary of the Lamy manufacturing company: "This new proposition certainly has 'something on the ball.' With a company with prestige behind it like Tober-Saifer, it's absolutely an investment, not a contribution, to buy stock."

C. A. Boyesen, Chief Clerk, Missouri State Fair: "Something we actually need, I'm ready to buy my share right now."

Philip McLaughlin, secretary-treasurer of McLaughlin Brothers' Furniture company: "I am glad I have bought stock in such an enterprise."

Walter W. Jessee, Missouri Pacific shops machinist and city councilman: "I am certain the employees of the shops will do their part in the securing of the factory. I am ready."

E. J. Hansman, draftsman at Missouri Pacific shops: "You'll get cooperation when you canvass the shops tomorrow, I'm sure. The boys are ready to do their share."

E. C. Wright, painter: "I have faith in its success."

J. L. Curry, Missouri Pacific shops cabinetmaker: "It's a gamble, but so is life. I like the setup."

Mrs. Kinkead Wins Croquet Tournament

Ed Kubli Takes The Men's Division With A Good Margin

Some fast competition was seen in the first city-wide Croquet Tournament held in Sedalia Sunday under the sponsorship of the WPA Recreational program. Ed F. Kubli in the men's division and Mrs. Anna V. Kinkead, 211 West Sixth street in the women's division, swept clean the courts in their games.

Mrs. Kinkead, who is seventy-two years old, is very active and displayed exceptional marksmanship in the tournament. She completed her game four wickets ahead of the nearest competitor. She has been active in the Eugene Field project and has played croquet every day during the past spring and summer.

Mr. Kubli representing the Washington Park croquet players went sailing across the court and before his opposition realized what had happened he had completed the game seven wickets ahead of his opponent.

In the Girls' division, Flora Schrader, 300 East Twenty-fourth street, was first place winner and second position went to Edna Gard, 402 East Twenty-sixth street.

Bill Thomas, 1801 South Washington was the winner in the boys' division and Dwight Strange, 308 East Third street, crossed the finishing line in second place.

Second place winner in the men's division went to Frank Claiburn, Twenty-fifth street and Washington avenue.

In the women's division Mrs. A. Williams of Twenty-fifth street and Washington was second.

There were twenty-seven entries in the tournament and more than seventy-five persons crowded around the courts to witness the games. It took more than four hours to complete the play.

All winners were awarded prizes offered by Sedalia merchants.

Broken Jaw, On Diet, But Gains In Weight

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 14.—(P)—Phantom Frank Sinkwich, the University of Georgia halfback who suffered a broken jaw October 4, gained three pounds the next week although kept on a strict diet. Six chickens are broiled and stewed daily to make a rich broth for him. Plus this, he has orange juice, tomato juice, malted milks and strained baby foods.

He opposed Mississippi a week after the injury, although his teeth were wired together.

What Big Six Coaches Say--

By the Associated Press
Dewey "Snorter" Luster, Oklahoma — (Texas 40, Sooners 7) "Have you ever plowed a field? I had some fast horses hitched with some slow ones at Texas. It won't work. Texas was the greatest team I ever saw."

"Sophomores Eddie Davis, Junior Golding, Pat Shanks and Pete Cawthorn showed me the A formation will work. The seniors have been playing off a single wing so long it's hard for them to change. Against Kansas State Saturday, I am going to segregate the young boys from the old, sending them out in different bunches."

Hobbs Adams, Kansas State — (Missouri 35, Wildcats 0)—"Although we were beaten by Missouri our boys showed great improvement and some day will come around. Our offense clicked better, our defense against the running plays was good. Ed Huff and Mike Zelezak did well. Their injured legs should be mended in time for Oklahoma."

Biff Jones, Nebraska — (Huskers 32, Kansas 0)—"I was pleased with my entire squad and would not want to single out any one fellow for tribute. I'm glad Nebraska is safely past both Iowa State and Kansas. Indiana plays at Lincoln Saturday, and should be the toughest test we've had. It will give me a better line on my boys."

Don Faurot, Missouri — "Our sophomores are coming along in fine shape and we are getting stronger in each game. Blocking and tackling was very sharp last week and I was especially pleased with the work of Tackle Bud Wallace and Quarterback Red Wade. A 9-man line stopped our T, but our passes clicked. Iowa State will be tough Saturday."

Ray Donels, Iowa State — "We should be in our best form of the year for Missouri after a week's layoff. I hope to have a defense ready to stop that T without sacrificing a pass defense. Also have spent much time on offense."

Gwinn Henry, Kansas — "The right side of our line was weak in general and particularly at tackles. Ray Niblo, Ray Evans and Don Ettinger played improved ball. Miller's passing game has been off since Temple, but he saved at least three touchdowns with his defensive work against Nebraska."

"Hubert Ulrich at end and Jay Kern and Bob Fluker at guard deserve praise. Nebraska is almost as good as last year and I don't see how the Huskers can be stopped. They have three excellent tailbacks and Debus is a corner. Marquette will have an advantage in experience and in reserves at Milwaukee Saturday."

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—(P)—Harold (Red) Grange, the Illinois super-star of 1923-24-25, and his bride were honeymooning today.

Minnesota Is Number One In A. P. Poll

Texas, Duke, Fordham Follow in Order; Midwest Dominates

By BILL BONI
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(P)—Minnesota starts a new football campaign where it finished the last one—as No. 1 team in the Associated Press gridiron ranking poll.

The Golden Gophers, who so far have made two successful defenses of this mythical national championship, were made top choice by 66 of the 119 sports experts in the first of the weekly surveys of 1941. On 97 of the ballots they were placed either first or second, and they polled 1,081 points, awarded on a basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, 8 for third, and so forth.

The Texas Longhorns got second place with 934 points on the strength of one-sided victories over Colorado, Louisiana State and Oklahoma. Duke's Blue Devils, whose major accomplishment to date is a three-touchdown victory over Tennessee, was third and Fordham fourth.

The first ten, composed entirely of all-winning teams, is dominated, just as it was a year ago at this time, by the middle west. In addition to Minnesota, there are the Gophers' chief rivals for the conference title — Northwestern, fifth place; Michigan, sixth and Ohio State, tenth—as well as Notre Dame, which has won its first three games under Frank Leahy, its new head coach. The Irish were ranked eighth.

High-scoring but untested Navy was seventh. Santa Clara, only unbeaten and untied major eleven left on the Pacific coast, rounds out the first ten at ninth place.

Biggest game in the country this Saturday will be the clash at Evanston, Ill., of Northwestern and Michigan, first of the season's dog-fights among the Big Ten's ranking powers. With the possible exception of Navy, which tackles Cornell, No. 1 team in the poll a year ago, and Santa Clara, which plays Michigan State, none of the others appears to be threatened.

Second ten — 11.—Penn., 12.—Rice, 13.—Clemson, 14.—Texas A. and M., 15.—Nebraska, 16.—Oregon State, 17.—Tulane, 18.—Vanderbilt, 19.—Mississippi State, 20.—Columbia.

Democracy...in Conference

We like to think of ourselves as a progressive nation—and we are. We've led the parade for the whole world in invention and development—electric lights, telephones, automobiles, planes, streamlined trains.

But there's one thing we don't want streamlined for us. We don't want our opinions machine-made and handed out to us from the assembly line of any propaganda factory.

When it comes to what we think, we'd rather do the work ourselves than have it done for us. We have always preferred to have our opinions homemade—and we still do.

The dictators might call us a "cracker-barrel nation," because we get the facts out of the newspapers and talk them over among ourselves and then make up our minds.

The dictators think it's better to do ALL the thinking for their people; they like to DICTATE what the people think and dictate what they buy, and then make them like it by threatening them with castor oil or concentration camps.

WE'LL NEVER SEE IT THEIR WAY. As long as we have newspapers to tell us what's going on in the government—as long as newspaper advertisers keep on competing for our business by showing us their values, we'll just go right on making up our own minds around the "cracker barrel," whether it's in a town meeting or a skyscraper office or a country store.

It's this determination to make up our own minds that gives us the right to be a self-governing nation. It's this same determination that keeps our system of free enterprise going—gives us the right to buy what we like at the price we are willing to pay.

And it's the FACTS the newspapers give us—in their news columns and in their advertising columns—that are the foundation of BOTH THESE RIGHTS. Mighty important rights they are, too, particularly when you consider that your newspaper costs just a few cents a day.

Over 320 of America's leading newspapers are carrying this message today to their 10 million subscribers. Newspaper Publishers Committee, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York.

Walker's DE LUXE Straight Bourbon Whiskey

ESTD 1850

How to get down from high places...This prize action photo by Otto Rothschild may seem to have been the result of a lucky break. Actually, a perfect combination of skill, experience and timing made this picture possible. And that's what it takes to make Hiram Walker's DeLuxe a great bourbon. It's not just the four years of aging—not just the mouth-watering aroma—not just the glorious, full-bodied flavor—but a perfect combination of all these things that gives Hiram Walker's DeLuxe its prize bourbon taste. Try it today!

Straight Bourbon Whiskey, 90 proof. This whiskey is 4 years old. Hiram Walker & Sons Inc., Peoria, Ill.

Many Officers Are Relieved
Of Commands
Changes Have Been Made Quietly
As Possible

BY EDWARD E. BOMAR
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(AP)—
A long list of field officers, ranging from second lieutenants to major generals, have been relieved of commands by the army
since the Louisiana war games, and military quarters heard today
the early removal of numerous others was likely.

The officers who have been superseded in combat posts represent the first to feel the effects of stern War Department efforts to revitalize leadership of the land forces.

In point of numbers involved, the shakeup has been matched in army history only by the whole-scale World War removals of AEF officers in France by a process which the army grimly termed
"going blooley" because the re-classification board which Judge officers' merits sat at Bois.

Anxious lest morale be shaken, the War Department thus far has shifted the top commanders as quietly as possible.

General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, said in disclosing the original intention to remove officers deemed incapable of maintaining strict discipline and handling troops to the best advantage that it was hoped to avoid "stirring up a political mess" and also "the bitterness and recrimination" of the World War.

Secretary Stimson has discouraged use of the term "purge" and contended that publicly identifying officers involved would be unfair.

In military quarters it was considered inevitable the re-shuffling process should be largely at the expense of national guard and reserve officers.
As a class they have much less military experience than the professional regulars. The burden on commanders of guard divisions tends to be extra hard also because subordinates likewise are only part-time soldiers. Three guard division heads and one corps commander have been relieved.

The heaviest responsibilities in the shakeup rest on General Marshall, who is guided by the recommendations of the four field army commanders and by Major General Lesley J. McNair, who as chief of staff of army general headquarters has directed the intensive field training program of the last year. Marshall has described the necessary decisions as "the hardest thing we have to do."

New Members In Bowling Green
The Bowling Green Women's Extension club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Summers, with Mrs.
L. V. Igo as assistant hostess.

There were sixteen members and fifteen guests present. The names of Mrs. Marvin Goodwin and Miss Frances Goodwin were added as new members. Roll call was answered by naming and telling of a beauty spot in Pettis county. A checkup was made of the canning done this year, also on home improvements.

Most of the day was spent in quilting and cutting dresses for the Red Cross.

The November meeting will be on the second Thursday of the month with Mrs. Sim Bake and Mrs. W. A. Moore.

William H. Neece

Devils." The mortar platoon of which he has been a member recently won first place in regimental mortar tests. Since the 60th, as part of the Ninth Infantry Division, is now participating in First Army maneuvers "somewhere in South Carolina," Corporal Neece is looking forward to plenty of action during the next two months.

Keep Same Social Security Cards

Young men and women who have been working during the summer vacation period and are now preparing to return to college were cautioned in a statement by Karl R. Hunzeker, manager of the Sedalia office of the Social Security Board, to keep the same Social Security account number cards issued to them when they began work and have the numbers ready for their employers whenever they return to employment. This also applies to boys and girls of grade and high schools who have been working during vacation periods, Mr. Hunzeker stated.

"Many a person, after securing a Social Security account number and working for a short time, either misplaces or loses his account card," Mr. Hunzeker stated, "and we are trying to impress upon each student the fact that he needs only one account number and should keep it throughout his working lifetime."

It was emphasized by Mr. Hunzeker that two different Social Security account numbers may mean smaller old-age and survivors insurance payments when the time comes to file a claim for benefits. In case anyone loses his Social Security account number card, a duplicate may be secured, Mr. Hunzeker said. "This chance to secure a duplicate number, however, is no reason for the holder of an account number to become careless and disregard the importance of safeguarding his original number."

Young Peoples Group Elects

New officers of the Young Methodist People of Pettis county were installed Monday night at a meeting of the group at the Methodist church in Smithton. Miss May Sue Campbell, Sedalia, is the president of the county association.

Other officers are: Dora Dale Siron, Dresden, vice president. Mary Ruth Dotson, Sedalia, secretary; Ruby Scott, LaMonte, treasurer; Dorothy Burford, Sedalia, recreational director; Ruth Hoerman, Smithton, pianist; Paul Jenkins, Sedalia, publicity director.

A program held during the meeting included a piano duet by Louise and Mida Grinstead, of Longwood, and a book review, "Invitation to Live", by Anna Mae Gerster, Rev. C. I. Phipps installed the new officers.

The next meeting of the group will be held at First Methodist church of Sedalia in November.

Missouri-Pacific Brakeman Hurt

Catching his foot on the track as he stepped off a moving Missouri Pacific freight train near Otterville about 5 o'clock Monday evening, A. C. Mayfield, 24, 625 South Lafayette avenue, suffered an injury below his right knee cap and lacerations on the forehead.

Mayfield, a brakeman on the railroad, had stepped off the train to throw a switch when his foot caught, throwing him forward on his face. He was brought to the Bothwell hospital in a McLaughlin ambulance.

Attending Convention Philip McLaughlin, of the McLaughlin Furniture and Funeral Company, is in St. Louis attend-
